F. Educational Programs – Dr. Alan S. Futrick

This is the district's 100th year of the Muhlenberg School District, as part of this honoring its past each Wednesday the social media team is putting out a Wayback Wednesday. The most recent picture put up was a picture of the old high school, which used to be the junior high school, and what it looked like. The district kicked off the school year with two great days of professional development, the teachers were able to collaborate and were able to cultivate a growth mindset to start the school year. He wanted to thank Dr. Shappell and Mr. Crater and Ms. Perez for putting together a great program for the teachers to participate with. The district held elementary back to school nights, junior high and high school open houses; all four were extremely successful. The district had a junior high teacher, Mr. Winand and his 8th grade Civics class, was awarded a citation from PA House of Representatives for their distinguished dedication to their studies. Last year, Mr. Crater started to implement the A.N.D.I. philosophy in the district and it is so nice to see the kids all the way down into the elementary schools, but at 8th grade level were honored for their participation with that. Another neat event that took place, the senior class presidents Karwin Martinez and Kimberly Reynoso, organized a Senior Sunrise on Friday, September 5th. There were well over a hundred seniors who showed up at 6 o'clock in the morning and watched the sun rise. The downside was it was cloudy that day but talking about how much the kids do love coming to school, to see a third of the class show up that early in the morning was really nice. He thanked Mr. Seisler, and Ms. Pacharis, Ms. McGowan for making sure everything went smoothly with that. At the junior high school, the Dean's List program, an initiative that is going to help build positive school culture because it celebrates academic excellence and encourages the students to continually do their best. Last year they honored more than 125 students through hard work, dedication and they like to recognize kids each year for it. The junior high has a lot of sponsors that help them to partake in lunches and snacks for being recognized; their support has allowed the junior high school to provide meaningful recognition to students and also highlight the importance of the kids making great choices. Also, Dr. Macharola wanted everyone to have the red shirts to remember everyone deployed, the District gave these t-shirts to all of the staff members this year.
